ACADEMIC EXPERIENCE

Administrative:

Two-Year Part-Time Distance Administrator from St. Louis, Missouri in lieu of a one-year sabbatical followed by one year of online teaching, College of Arts and Sciences, Loyola University Maryland, July 1, 2019 – June 30, 2021

Provide mentorship of and support to the Associate Dean for the Social Sciences and Graduate Programs and for the Executive Director of the Loyola Clinical Centers. Provide continued oversight and support to the Department of Pastoral Counseling as it goes through the final year of its teach out and then its closure. Provide assistance and support of re-accreditation processes and site visits. Continue as co-chair of the project that will result in a new 45,000 sq. ft. Center for Innovation and Collaborative Learning. Continue to oversee and monitor the workload model for all clinical faculty in relevant graduate programs.

Associate Dean for the Social Sciences and Graduate Programs, College of Arts and Sciences, Loyola University Maryland, July 1, 2014 – June 30, 2019:

Provide direct supervision and support to seven departments and two interdisciplinary programs, along with eight graduate programs in four of these departments. These include the Departments of Communication (to include undergraduate, Masters in Emerging Media, Certificate in Health Communication, T.V. Station, Radio Station, Student Publishing Company, Yearbook,), Pastoral Counseling (three graduate programs), Political Science (undergraduate, to include Pre-Law Program), Psychology

(undergraduate and graduate), Sociology (undergraduate, to include Global Studies, Gender Studies, and Forensic Studies), Speech-Language-Hearing Sciences (undergraduate and graduate), and Army ROTC/Department of Military Science. This includes 62 tenure track and tenured faculty members, 42 full-time non-tenure track and clinical faculty, and 67 affiliate faculty as well as 1,248 undergraduate students and 357 graduate students.

Responsibilities: Annual review of faculty, curricula, course offerings each semester, developing and managing operating budgets and revenue projections, annual assessment of learning outcomes, and day-to-day operations. Provide ongoing mentoring of new department chairpersons and junior faculty members. Responsible for the hiring and oversight of all non-tenure track and affiliate faculty across seven departments and their associated graduate programs. Provide direct oversight of two administrative support staff members. Serve on university governance bodies and provide overall leadership in the College of Arts and Sciences to fulfill the University's mission in a manner consistent with its values.

Selected Accomplishments: Oversaw program reviews and resulting curriculum revisions for seven departments, to include the closure of four programs and the development and implementation of three new programs, the development and planning for a fourth new program, and major revisions to several undergraduate majors. Collaborated on accreditation activities across disciplines, the expansion of clinical training opportunities, development of cost-saving new workload models for clinical faculty, marketing and yield promotion initiatives, co-led space planning and facilities renovation and expansion for the university, development and expansion of online education initiatives, and development/advancement and alumni relations initiatives. Coordinated graduate activities in the Loyola Writing Center. Conducted grade and dismissal appeals for the College of Arts and Sciences. Provided training on boundaries, consensual relationships, and sexual harassment to faculty, staff, and administrators across the university. Gave training to students on success in college and beyond, organization and study skills, and resilience and stress management.

Associate Chair, Department of Psychology, Loyola University Maryland, 2012 – 2014:

Served as a leader of an academic department with 19 tenured/tenure track, 7 full-time non-tenure track and clinical, and over 30 affiliate faculty members. Oversaw the recruitment, hiring, orientation, and ongoing work of all non-tenure track and affiliate faculty members, providing administrative oversight and mentoring of their teaching. Oversaw and coordinated the department's annual assessment of learning outcomes for its undergraduate, master's, and doctoral programs. Supported the department's chairperson and represented the department in the chairperson's absence.

Director of Master's Education (Practitioner Programs), Department of Psychology, Loyola University Maryland, 2011 – 2014, Acting Director, 2001 - 2002:

Oversaw and coordinated all aspects of practitioner master's programs in psychology and co-chaired the department's master's committee. Oversaw and led marketing, recruitment, and retention efforts; application review and admissions decisions, curriculum revision and development, revision of learning aims and measurement of learning outcomes, responses to student professionalism and academic concerns, infusion of a focus on diversity and ethics into all academic courses and clinical experiences.
